ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

A licensed veterinarian visited the facility on 1/15/2020 and 2/20/2020 and observed animals and we saw there were at least 20 animals that the facility had identified and was treating (mostly for eye conditions) prior to inspection. Some of the animals under treatment appeared to have resolving conditions. However, there were four animals with conditions in need of veterinary care that had not been identified prior to inspection:

Chinchilla labeled with paper card RVDK J144 and housed close to bank 29 had eyes that were crusted shut. Its right eyelids were swollen and had some hair loss. The licensee handled it to look closer and the eyes had a thick pale discharge. The licensee treated it and added it to the treatment plan.

White female chinchilla housed in 30C: one eye (its left) had eyelids that were swollen, had hair loss around the eyelids, and it had some discharge in the eye. It was added to the treatment plan by the licensee.

Grey female chinchilla housed in 47D was unkempt and had a scab under its collar. We asked the licensee to handle it so we could look closer and found that the underside of the collar was embedded into the neck. The licensee removed the collar; and I observed hair loss, a putrid odor, and a granular and liquid pale discharge in the area where the collar had been embedded. Ensure that the attending veterinarian's treatment plan is followed for this chinchilla.

Indirect non-compliance:

A female chinchilla housed in 75 was noted to be excessively drooling and not chewing its food properly. The licensee handled it for a closer look and we saw that its lower front (incisor) teeth were long and did not allow the chinchilla close its mouth in a normal manner. Overgrown teeth can be painful and can cause improper chewing and lead to malnutrition. Ensure that the attending veterinarian's treatment plan is followed for this chinchilla.

Overgrown teeth, the eye problems and the embedded collar noted above are conditions that are not acute (not
